DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-8 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 of U.S. Patent No. 6717377.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because in the application in claim 1 in the third and fourth line the applicant uses terms first and second signal respectively, while claim in the U.S Patent uses the phrases first and second horizontal correction signal. This change in naming does not change the invention claimed in claim 1, because east-west or right to left correction inherently has to have horizontal signals generated in order to perform right to left correction.

2. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 9-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 9-13 and 16-20 respectively of prior U.S. Patent No 6717377. This is a double patenting rejection.

The Prior Art

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- US 5449982 discloses top/bottom pincushion correction circuit but it does not teach that the signal combiner generates parabolic portion of the first signal being continuous with the parabolic portion of the second signal
- US 4395662 discloses correction circuits for projection television. It comprises the bottom side pincushion circuit and the top side pincushion circuit, and the adder. It does not teach however that the signal combiner generates parabolic portion of the first signal being continuous with the parabolic portion of the second signal

- US 4810939 discloses a top and bottom pincushion distortions correcting circuits used for CRT, but it does not specifically teach how signals are combined
- US 5051608 discloses a circuit arrangement for supplying a periodic substantially parabolic signal, but it does not teach that the signal combiner generates parabolic portion of the first signal being continuous with the parabolic portion of the second signal.
